Modern Dance Club On Faculty Women's Program

The Modern Dance club of University women provided entertainment at the program tea given yesterday afternoon by the Faculty Women's club for the Michigan Dames. A dance recital was given in the Lydia Mendelssohn theater before about 300 members of the two clubs by the student group directed by Miss Ruth Bloomer of the physical education department.

The interpretations were distinguished by their approach to the primitive dance forms, and were done with simple costuming and setting, bringing out the strength of the themes. Main features of the program were two groups of dances, one based on the Biblical story of Judith, and the other interpreting the zodiac.

The Ann Arbor women among the 15 dance club members are Miss Beatrice Lovejoy, who is president of the club; Mrs. Otto Graf, and the Misses Beverly Jeness, Beth O'Roke, Mary Redden and Bernice and Rosebud Wolfson.

After the program, the hostesses and guests were received informally in the Ethel Fountain Hussey lounge by the two club presidents, Mrs. Ralph W. Aigler and Mrs. Roy Joyce, and tea was served. Spring flowers in pink and rose with other pastel shades in long ivory bowls centered the tables at which preside Mrs. Alexander G. Ruthven, Mrs. Samuel T. Dana, Mrs. Max Winkler and Mrs. John Sundwall.

Hostesses Named For Dance Recital

The hostesses for the dance recital at 3:15 tomorrow afternoon in Lydia Mendelssohn theater, given by the Modern Dance club before the Faculty Women's club and its guests, the Michigan Dames, will be the faculty advisers of the latter club.

The Faculty Women's club members who have this responsibility are Mrs. Alexander G. Ruthven, Mrs. Ralph W. Aigler, Dr. Margaret Bell, Mrs. William W. Bishop, Mrs. George E. Carrothers, Mrs. Roy W. Cowden, Mrs. G. Carl Huber, Mrs. Russell C. Hussey, Dr. Lavinia MacKaye, Miss Ethel A. McCormick, Mrs. Ira M. Smith, Mrs. Carl V. Weller, and Mrs. Alfred H. White.

The entire program will be given by the Modern Dance club of University women students in the physical education department, under the direction of Miss Ruth Bloomer. Following the dances, tea will be served in the Ethel Fountain Hussey lounge and the concourse of the Michigan League.

"I get it now," said Bobby, "but how about those equinoxes?"
"They occur, Bobby, when the earth is in a position where the slant of the poles is neither toward the sun nor away from it — half way between the summer and winter positions. You might say then that the slant is sidewise.
The north and south are getting

Receiving Line

The Faculty Women's club welcomed new members yesterday afternoon with its reception held in the Michigan League ballroom. Matching in social importance the Senate reception, the smaller group makes possible more elaborate and lovely appointments. The tea always brings out a brilliant assembly of new autumn attire in the formal afternoon mode, making a gay picture against the background of autumn flowers arranged in the ballroom and on the tea tables.

Receiving the 400 or more guests yesterday with the club president, Mrs. Walter B. Pillsbury and with Mrs. Alexander G. Ruthven, was Regent Esther M. Cram, together with Mrs. E. Blythe Stason, Mrs. Shirley W. Smith, Mrs. Clarence S. Yoakum and Mrs. James D. Bruce. Mrs. Ralph Hammett introduced the members to Mrs. Pillsbury.

The tea tables were centered with modernistic line arrangements of red-bronze shaggy chrysanthemums placed in low dishes of gray-green pottery. Beside each table were floor candelabra of wrought iron holding lighted white candles. Mrs. Paul A. Leidy was chairman of the

Mendelssohn

The members of the Faculty Women's club with their personal guests and the Michigan Dames who were invited as a group, nicely filled the lower floor of the Lydia Mendelssohn theater yesterday afternoon for the club's concert given by the University Little Symphony orchestra. The audience gave evidence of great enjoyment of the program presented by the orchestra with Thor Johnson directing and Hardin VanDeursen as the soloist.

The closing series in the program was made up of compositions of Marion E. McArtor, instructor in the theory of music in the school of music, who was brought before the curtain by the applause, and who was introduced later at the tea.

After the concert, the club members and guests had tea in the concourse and Ethel Fountain Hussey lounge of the Michigan League.
